

CANMORE NORDIC SKI CLUB (CNSC)

CODE OF CONDUCT

June 2021

The CNSC Code of Conduct has been implemented to ensure all club members, including athletes, coaches, parents and volunteers, have a safe and positive environment while participating in club activities, and to foster an environment of respect. Violation of the Code of Conduct may be subject to consequences as outlined in this document.

- 1) Members agree to respect and provide support for coaches to coach and the officials to officiate. If a parent has a concern about their child, their child's program, or the coaching of their child, they should raise these concerns in a respectful manner in one of the following ways:
 - i) Through discussion with the program coach immediately following a training session. Parents should refrain from questions and concerns at the beginning of a session when the coach is focused on the session.
 - ii) Through a meeting with the program coach and program director.
 - iii) Through a meeting with the program coach and a representative of the CNSC Board of Directors.
- 2) It is expected that all members display responsible and positive attitudes.
- 3) Parents are responsible for ensuring that their child finds their group if they are late. It is also the parents' responsibility to ensure their child is picked up on time. Athletes will be sent to the Bill Warren Training Centre or the Day Lodge if the parent is more than 15 minutes late.
- 4) Participants must arrive with appropriate clothing and equipment for the session activities. They must also follow the wax recommendations posted by the coach in advance of the session.
- 5) It is mandatory for parents of athletes at the Track Attack level and higher to participate in a waxing workshop. CNSC athletes benefit from the expertise, knowledge and commitment of the club's wax team and coaches. To ensure the effective and efficient waxing of athlete skis for races, families and athletes are expected to follow the waxing preparations recommended in advance of each race by CNSC coaches. High fluorocarbon additives will be used at the discretion of the coaches/wax team when considered appropriate for the snow conditions and the specific level of race.
- 6) Members must respect other people and their property. Disrespect for property and verbal or physical abuse which violates the integrity and wellbeing of another will lead to disciplinary action.
- 7) Members of the CNSC Junior/Senior Racing Team, including Train to Train and older, will wear CNSC clothing at competitions.

Examples include:

- Single instances of disrespectful or rude behavior
- Unsportsmanlike conduct
- A minor disturbance or disruption after quiet time at camps
- Other similar infractions of minor severity.

Major infractions: A single breach of significance or repeated breaches/behavior that has serious impact on the athlete, other athletes or individuals and/or the program as a whole. Examples include:

- Fighting
- Vandalism
- Theft
- Bullying
- Pranks, jokes, or other activities which endanger the safety of others;
- Possession or use of illegal drugs
- Consumption of alcohol or use of an illegal drug by a minor
- Repeated minor infractions

Infractions to the CNSC Code of Conduct will be dealt with as follows:

1. In the case of minor infractions, the Program Coach will schedule a discussion with the involved party(ies). The incident will be discussed and strategies to improve conduct will be agreed upon. If this step doesn't achieve the desired results, a meeting with the involved party(ies), the Program Coach, Program Director and parent(s), if a minor is involved, will be coordinated by the Program Coach. Repeated minor infractions may result in the matter being considered a major infraction.

2. In the case of major infractions involving athletes, the coach will notify the Program Director and the parent(s) immediately or as soon as communication is possible. The coach may also pull the athlete from participating in a CNSC activity until such time as the Program Director and/or the parent(s) can be contacted. In severe cases, an athlete may be sent home at the expense of the parents/guardian if attending an out-of-town event/activity. Should the Program Director determine that disciplinary action is warranted, the Program Director will recommend appropriate action to the club's Board of Directors. In severe cases, suspension from training and racing activities or expulsion from the club may result.
